Review & Outlook

The NTA (pre-tax) return for February was -1.43%.

Freedom Insurance Group Limited ("Freedom") was again the largest contributor to return for the month. The company reported excellent results and upgraded guidance for the second time since listing. Cooper Energy Limited ("Cooper") announced a clever strategic deal with APA Group, the result of which is to de-risk materially the Sole and Manta gas field projects and to reduce Cooper's equity capital requirement as the financial investment decisions approach. RCR Tomlinson Limited ("RCR") also performed well. Investors continue to expect the company to benefit from recovering mining capex and strong infrastructure investment.

The bottom contributors to return were Airxpanders Inc ("Airxpanders"), Compumedics Limited ("Compumedics") and Nanosonics Limited ("Nanosonics"). Compumedics delivered a disappointing result and we are monitoring the situation. Airxpanders and Nanosonics have both recovered substantially following short term trading-related drops in valuation during the month.

February also marked the announcement of the Company's maiden dividend of 1c fully franked. The Chairman commented that the Board's aim is to provide a stable and rising stream of dividends over the years ahead.
